For Immediate Release

APRIL 13, 2004

Ronald J. Tenpas, United States Attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, announced today that on April 12, 2004, DANIEL EDWARD JUNG, aged 57 and formerly of Shiloh, Illinois, was sentenced in the United States District Court in East St. Louis, Illinois, to six months' imprisonment for violating the terms of his probation. JUNG was formerly placed on probation in November of 1998 for failing to file his tax returns. As a condition of his probation, he was ordered to make restitution to the Government in the amount of $49,936.88. JUNG failed to make restitution payments as required by the terms of his probation.

In December of 2003, JUNG agreed to file all past tax returns (for the years 2000, 2001, and 2002) and to make $15,000 in restitution if the Court would continue his case until March. In March, JUNG was hospitalized and the matter was continued to April 12, 2004. JUNG filed his prior returns on April 9, 2004, but failed to make any restitution payment.

The case was investigated by the Internal Revenue Service and prosecuted by Assistant United States Attorney Joel V. Merkel.
